116 vera lebedeva on recent incidents in pakistan. lebedeva says that state officials are making futile attempts to stifle these demonstrations. heavy restrictive and punitive measures are taken. the demonstrators are demanding radical changes in the pakistani regime's foreign policy. u.s. imperialists are using pakistan as their strategic springboard in asia, and they are involved in an undeclared war agaist afghanistan. pakistan's military regime has opened its doors to u.s. capital. all these are very similar to the situation that prevailed in iran before the revolution, therefore it is not difficult for the iranians to understand the uprising in pakistan. the slogans in pakistan today remind one of the slogans used in iran during the revolution. these similarities are not accidental. the fact is that the u.s. imperialists support all dictatorships and count on such rules for the implementation of their foreign policy. you can recall how the white house did its best to support the shah until the end. now reagan is doing the same for pakistan's regime.
